Exhentai is gone, E-hentai still exists. The reason given is that laws in the Netherlands, or just Europe in general or something, made it illegal to host loli/shota content. A lot of people are pointing out that other sites do this anyway and the admin of the Exhentai did nothing to help keep it alive or back up stuff. The only person involved with Exhentai who did anything is the guy who started this very thread. Drama is ensuing.

A law change in NL made the server provider panic, who then told tenboro he had 24 hours to gtfo their servers. A mod leaked the plan and everybody WAS panic downloading before the actual shut down like an hour ago. Tenboro didn't say a fucking thing until the shutdown, sucks for people who weren't browsing 4chan.

It's probably better policy with limited time. If we'd had a week, we could cross-reference with other sites and build up an only-on-Ex database and pool resources there. 'Save what you want' is easy enough to understand, doesn't require further instructions, and SOMEONE might save the actually important stuff by accident.

That's not good enough. You need to be able to tell people that it's okay to upload their non-h artbooks onto this service. If you have to say "You WILL have loli/shota/scat/bestiality on your computer, unencrypted, from using this service", then the scanner for "Reimu and Marisa's happy raindrop adventure vol 5" is going to give it a miss. E*hentai was formidable and valued because it offered both ends of the spectrum, and a replacement needs to offer both as well.

Potentially, yes. Depends on the owner and host stance.
Ex's host blatantly lied when saying loli is now illegal, article above checks that (ctrl+f .nl to find it).
So maybe tenboro just wanted to drop the site, and made it that way. he didn't release the data either, and gave us only 12 hours(again, if the law concerned 2D content, it would've been made effective at a later date so he could've said months from now, the site is ded)

So I can still see shota and loli if given direct links to e-hentai. Is this happening to anyone else? Not getting the fjords message but actually being able to see the galleries? They don't show up on search but if I already have a link I can see them.

You get animations of executions in almost every edgy anime and they're broadcast on Toonami... I'm not even into petite waifus but this manufactured outrage is dumb. A drawing is a drawing. Grow up and stop trying to ban things you don't like even though they don't affect you.

I came in here today knowing I don't fap as much as I used to and I still ended up hastily downloading about 10 gigabytes of files in the span of around 8 hours because of a thread on /v/ telling me everything was going to shit. It made me feel like I was going to lose something, like there was something to lose. But personally, after all this, I don't think I did. Sure I love shotacon and I don't even think I scratched the surface of what was there, but I don't even think I've visited this site since last year. I don't feel bad. I had fun. If anything I found more artists to look to and it gives me more drive to be passionate about people and porno I like. I hope for the best for you sex crazed fanatics and collecting purists out there. Look alive.

Im working on a whitepaper for one, but the main problem is that no matter what I think of, its always susceptible to spam, or if you implement anti-spam systems, it can be taken over by a small group if they try / spend enough bandwidth on it who can then label anything as spam and delete it. I dont know how to make it both spam and censor resistant.

No fake/troll shit

No real shit (if you know what I mean)

No tracings of ^

If you're feeling paranoid, get two no email, alternative payment/s, confirmed by court order no log VPN's that allow chaining and IP leak protection and get to seeding.

This is it, isn't it? It's the beginning of the end. They're sanitizing the internet, turning it into a mainstream, clean service in control of governments. They had started with YouTube and Facebook and shit, but now they're pushing everything else into the dark web, aren't they?

I'm gonna need fucking TOR to look at cartoons. CARTOONS. Meanwhile those fucks can't keep ISIS executions off the internet. Probably because they're behind ISIS anyway and they use those to keep us docile.

...you know what? Fuck this. I'm cursing them. I'm going to figure out a way to make dark magic work and I'll fucking curse them so they rot from the inside.

Oh, the upload was in 2007, but just to give some context to how far back some of this stuff goes. It's literally IMPOSSIBLE to find any of the other works, since this isn't nearly the only doujin Yu made before hitting it mainstream. This was his old circle's 7th book, but by the time it got uploaded this lone doujin was all that was left. Just consider all of the small doujins and tiny circles which otherwise would have disappeared into the ether without Sadpanda.

It is. I dont know why people keep talking about a "new law" nothing in 2019 has happened regarding hentai. Nothing has happened to hentai since that one case that deemed it "not illegal" At most I can see the minister "pressuring" ISPS over real CP being misinterpreted, or used as an excuse by the ISP to get rid of it. Perhaps they panicked and so did he but its all very odd.

This proposal is supposedly the reason why sadpanda is being shutdown. It makes it easier to prosecute people for cp and also makes the punishment harsher. The legality of loli and shota remains unchanged in this proposal.

Do we really have to go over basic morality here?

Showing a child footage or animation of something is bad because that child is impressionable and needs adult discretion to be able to separate real life from reality

An adult watching things has no such issue.

CP is bad no matter who you show it to because it was made by harming children.

When you DRAW it, no one was harmed, and no one is being affected.

The only stance on drawn loli stuff being "dangerous" in any way shape or form is the slippery slope idea, that it somehow "normalizes" people to the real thing. This needs to be proven BEFORE enforcement, and there's plenty of evidence to suggest that the OPPOSITE is in fact the case.

Man, that'll be a really fun user experience routing outside of the datacentre/country will be garbage, people will have terrible speeds, attack protection/prevention will be garbage at best, site will slow to a crawl 24/7
And if you're talking about the host I think you are, the moment your traffic looks like "ddos" (incoming) your server will be cut off from the internet to protect it

People who want control. Control over other people's lives, to compensate for any lack over their own that they may feel.

Those old ladies for example, they don't ONLY have nothing better to do. They're getting old. They're starting to feel irrelevant. Taking away things from other people is dragging others down to their level:

>"I can't do things I love as well as I used to, and I hear you all love THIS".

The petty councilmen pushing through legislation? It makes them feel important. It makes them feel like fucking superheroes.

>"What did we do? We STOPPED degenerates and SAVED lines of ink representing children - tens of thousands of them from the depraved atrocities of people too busy touching themselves to even hold a job."

And then there's the real monsters. The fascists, authoritarians and far-right ideologists for whom all wealth, rights, pleasures, privileges - everything - is a zero-sum game. If you can read loli-porn, that is little girls *they* didn't get to keep for themselves. If you have money, you OWE it to them. If you can masturbate to shota, that is the theft of the privilege of rich granny over there who was supposed to be unique and singular in her great tastes but now has been diminished to nothing more than yet-another-old-person who likes their dicks still singing soprano.

After all, to those deciding all these things, the laws are never quite enforced are they?

And those who would disagree, or worse yet those most-dangerous ones (because that can cause people to actually act against you) who call you out on your hypocrisy, they must be silenced lest other people disagree. If you can't get enough of your victims to think they deserve and need what you're about to do to them, they might send you the way of all those other dead nobles. Wouldn't want that now would we?

Totalitarianism isn't just an issue of government. What it's always been, beyond any political lines, is the most addictive drug of all: power over your fellow man.

Yup. It's gonna suck that I'm gonna have to buy more of my own CG sets and all that (though I was uploading ones I bought anyway), but the real loss here is all of the content from comiket and other, smaller doujin events like the Touhou ones, all gone now.

And now I just realized I also forgot to download Futachu, which has some prototype characters to his mainstream success, Bakuon. No lolicon content, just futa. Gone. Thankfully it was translated, so there's probably a DL link out there somewhere...

All in all its one of the last screws in the coffin of ye old Internet, the old wild west interwebs, the net which was not everyone but for a semi-select group of at least minimally tech savvy people who didn't need their hands held all the time, the last candlelights of this bygone era when the internet more resembled a playground for nerds as opposed to an extension of real life, a place of anarchy where everything went by and wasn't tampered by the moralfaggotry and fee-fees of normalfags

We are last of our kind gentleman. We used the internet for fun, for anonymous lulz, for experimenting, for creating. But for the wave of normies who want to use it to blast their obnoxious self, the corporations who want to turn it into a huge marketing space, we are anomaly, we are obstacles, we are people that know too much and have too weird interests, they want us either gone or assimilate to their big pretend-happy blob of targeted content, egomania and feel-good garbage.

It was a fun ride, anon. I'm glad to have been here for this 12-odd years. May we see each other on the other side.

Good reason to believe so, but judging by previous action as to how they dealt with ATF, see >>5439435, they either accidentally shot exhentai as well or deliberately went out of their way to kill it.
On top of that Kiwi Farms has been DDoS'ing the new ATF servers for over a week now.

I believe if you have the exhentai index archive, which I got from... fuck, search for "/t/" in this thread, one of them posted it, you can scroll through the pages looking for it. The problem is that there's ~25 thousand html files to search through. But, for example, that 2935 folder should contain "(C71) [Moriisan-Tokono (Morii Shizuki)] Kyouha Nichiyoubi. They'll still get uploaded to Nyaa, it'll just be a pain in the ass to find the ones you want.

Also, I would imagine it will be much much slower having people actually scan them considering there's no longer an incentive for people to do so, at least for fjorded ones. It probably just means fewer of the doujinshi that feature loli/shota/beast girls/incest etc. will get scanned.

The most paradoxical thing about this whole situation is that, the internet is constantly steering towards a more "personal" network where there's no more anonymity. But at the same time, in that very same network you got people who tell you to get out of the net and not make the internet an extension of you life.

Dude, it doesn't fucking matter about wanishit, we have torrents for that. In fact, that was a blessing in disguise because scanlation was half-dead and now we have thousands of works translated and uncensored in return. We need a new site like tsumino where to upload old and new shit that we can use, loli included.

>> ☐ Anonymous 07/26/19(Fri)18:26:02 No.5440122 ►

If I had to give up my life for Exhentai to come back I would do it. I'm tired of people taking away the stuff we all like so they can pat themselves on the back. I'm tired of SJW shit. Where did we go wrong as people? When did this start spiraling into a world where people can't have fun anymore?

Reminder:

>Public Exhentai Archive Beta

For those willing to contribute, I've created a public archival website for Exhentai.

<http://alexandria.exhentai.moe/>

It's currently a pretty honor-system based, but I'll be manually reviewing submissions for the time being. This should only be used for things that are known to be wiped (loli/shota/scat, etc), so if it's available on e-hentai, don't upload it.

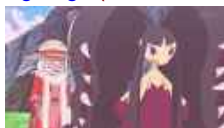

Obviously you shouldn't trust this website anymore than you would any other website with hosting your content though. This is primarily for verifying what is and isn't saved.

I'll be working on the layout tomorrow, but I want to keep it pretty light to conserve bandwidth. The base features are there though. Download links will be available once the storm settles down.

This is just another reason why you should ALWAYS KEEP LOCAL VERSIONS.

I remember answering that I browsed the internet whenever someone asked me what were some of my pastimes and they always gave me a perplexed look, probably wondering how could someone spend his time on the internet all day. And now you see people glued to their fucking phone 24/7 and all the content I enjoy keeps getting butchered (or outright deleted) just to make these people happy.

The only people censoring the internet in such massive, unprecedented scale are leftists. You can cry "BUBUBUBUBUT FASCISTS CENSORED A DOZEN OF TRANNY BOOKS IN THE 1930s!!1 DEY IZ JUST AS BAD" all you want, it doesn't change the fact that far-leftist corporations censoring more sites and purging MILLIONS of images, ebooks and videos on the internet is just starting. Wait until they fine-tune their fucking AI.
